

What does your event actually need?

Start with the moment. Add what helps. Skip what does not.

NO PERFECT LIST REQUIRED.

START HERE

You do not need to know the name of every cable, light or stage piece.

Tell us what is happening. A dance. A speech. A few more guests. A room that feels too dark.

That gives us somewhere real to start.

THE MOMENT
COMES FIRST

What needs to work beautifully?

A dance or performance

Can people see them? Do they have room to move?

A speech everyone hears

Will the microphone and speakers suit the room?

Music that fills the room

Does the DJ or band have the sound and space they need?

DESCRIBE THE MOMENT. WE WILL HELP FIND THE PIECES.

THE ROOM MATTERS

The room changes what your event needs.

How many people?

Guest count helps determine seating and sound.

What is included?

Ask about the room, layout, acoustics, power and equipment.

What feels off?

Too dark? Hard to hear?
No focal point? Start there.

More equipment does not automatically make a better event.

A smaller stage might fit the room better. A few well-placed lights might be enough. Clear sound may matter more than everything else.

ASK FOR A SIMPLE OPTION + AN UPGRADED OPTION

No formal budget? That is okay. Even a comfortable range helps us show you what makes sense.

PLANS CHANGE

The event is planned. Then someone has an idea.

- + A dance needs a stage.
- + A musician needs sound.
- + The room needs light.
- + Ten more guests need chairs.

You do not have to start over. Add the missing piece.

Ready to ask?

Send what you know. We will help with what you do not.

- ☐ Event date
- ☐ Location or venue
- ☐ Guest count
- ☐ What is happening
- ☐ What the venue includes
- ☐ What you might add
- ☐ A comfortable range, if known

A complete list is not required.

One question is enough to begin.
